Good Evening,

PJAS is in search of judges for the Region 7 Competition. If you have a science, math, computer or engineering background, please consider volunteering as a PJAS judge. If you have judged for the competition in the past, we appreciate your past service and hope that you join us again. By volunteering you will support the work of hundreds of Middle and High School students around the region.

This year our event will be held virtually, and we have made some adaptations and modifications. You will be able to view and listen to the student presentations using your web browser (Chrome, Firefox, etc.) just like you are checking your email. All scoring will also be completed online.

You will receive your judging assignment during the second week of February via email, and you will have two weeks to view, listen to, and score the students assigned to you. There will be more information about judging specifics coming out soon.

With the updates to judging this year, we are asking that you do attend a virtual orientation session one week prior to judging. If the day and time that the orientation is held on does not work for you, a recording of the training will be sent out.

To register as a judge go to <https://www.pjasregistration.com>. Click on the Register Judge link at the top left of the page, and proceed to the registration site. You will need to select Region 7 from the first drop down box. You will be prompted to add contact information, choose categories for judging, and select the grade ranges that you are comfortable judging. If you would like to judge more than one section, please use the website above, and complete the registration process again using your same information.

Registration is open until Friday, February 5th. Please register as soon as possible.

Feel free to contact us with any questions.

Thank you and have a wonderful evening,

Cathy Greco, Jonathan Woytek, & Krista Kowalok
