

Dr. George C. Bandik received his Ph.D. under the mentorship of Dr. Toby Chapman. Thereafter, he became a faculty member in the Chemistry Department at the University of Pittsburgh, where he has taught Organic Chemistry, Chemistry for Health Related Professionals, and a Writing Course for majors. Over the past 35 years, he has served as Faculty Advisor to the Department's nationally recognized American Chemical Society Student Affiliates. He has designed many of the Department's outreach efforts, including our Saturday Science Program which targets local minority and women high school students. His achievements have been recognized by the Chancellor's Distinguished Teaching Award (1993), the Chancellor's Distinguished Public Service Award (2008), the Arts and Sciences Bellet Teaching Award (2001) and the Ampco Pitt/Pittsburgh Advising Award (2008) and most recently the 2016 Award for Encouraging Women in the Chemical Sciences given by the Women's Chemists Committee of Pittsburgh. He also serves as an Assistant Dean in the Dietrich School of Arts and Sciences Undergraduate Dean's Office.
